SAD STATE of the old Canyon Swimming Pool is clearly apparent in these photographs. The left picture shows the bed of the pool which is now filled with mud and stones that were washed in by the creek. In the right photo, Ben Hegel, a canyon resident who is attempting to form a permanent committee to protect future canyon development, inspects a gaping hole in the bathhouse wall caused by overly exuberant youngsters. Both the city building inspector and the fire chief have recommended that the bathhouse be torn down. Mr. Hegel, however, believes it would be an ideal building to hold art shows for canyon residents. The whole area may be turned into a parking lot.

Formation of Canyon Committee Underway

The formation of a committee to protect the future development of the Sierra Madre canyon area is now under way, it was reported this week.

The immediate goal of the committee, under the direction of Benson J. Hegel, 818 Alta Vista Dr., is to determine, with the aid of city officials, what should be done with the abandoned canyon pool.

The long-range goal, however, is to organize a permanent group that would look out for the interests of canyon residents, Mr. Hegel said.

MR. HEGEL already has mailed 300 letters to canyon residents seeking their opinions on possible uses for the pool. The response, he said, has been "most encouraging."

Mr. Hegel, in his letter, asked residents:

1. What would you like to see done with the Canyon Pool?
2. Are you willing to attend meetings to discuss the pool problem?
3. Are you willing to support a permanent Canyon Community organization?

SEVERAL suggestions have been made by city officials and by others for the use of the pool. It could be converted to (1) a parking lot, (2) a recreation area or (3) a playground. In addition, it has been proposed that the buildings be torn down.

Mr. Hegel and several canyon residents attended the meeting of the Recreation Commission Feb. 25. They suggested two alternatives—that the building be renovated and used for art displays or that the entire area be converted into a parking lot.

Bi-Monthly Youth Dances Are Planned

Teenage dances sponsored by the Sierra Madre Recreation Department will be held every other Saturday night, starting March 14, it was announced yesterday by Director Dave Sommers.

Dances will begin at 8 p.m. and continue to midnight at the Youth Hut in Sierra Vista Park.

The decision to hold the dances resulted from two successful teenage affairs held during the past two weeks. Attendance at these dances was estimated at 65 each.

The Youth Hut, Mr. Sommers said, provides an excellent atmosphere for youth activities. He expressed his appreciation to all those who attended the dances for the manner in which they conducted themselves.

Plans are now under consideration, he said, to hold more activities in the Youth Hut, provided sufficient enthusiasm is shown by teenagers.

Stringfellow Marks 45th Bank Year

William B. Stringfellow, vice president of Security First National bank and manager of the head office real estate department, observes his 45th anniversary

William B. Stringfellow with the bank this week.

Mr. Stringfellow and his wife, Agnes, live at 497 G. Grandview, Sierra Madre.

A Philadelphia by birth, Mr. Stringfellow attended Friend Central High School and Brown's Prep College. He moved to the Southern California area in 1905.

AFFILIATING WITH the old Los Angeles First National Trust & Savings Bank in 1941, he was later elected assistant secretary in the Trust Department. He organized the Real Estate Division of the Trust Department, was made a junior vice president and in 1928 a vice president.

After the consolidation of Security First National Bank in 1929, he organized the Real Estate Division of the Trust Department, was made a junior vice president and in 1928 a vice president.

"I can't stand it any more," the caller said. "I want to confess the Hall murder."

He promised to meet officers in front of a shopping center at Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michillinda Ave., Pasadena, at the Sierra Madre city limits.

Police cars from both cities rushed to the shopping center, but the caller failed to appear.

On Friday, Feb. 27, Pasadena Superior Court Judge H. Burton Noble declared a mistrial in the trial of Marley L. Pierson, accused of slaying Clarence Hall Jr., 34, on Colorado Blvd. last Dec. 3.

REALTY LOAN RECORD

Home Savings and Loan Association recorded an all time high of $17,698,599 in realty loans throughout Los Angeles County for the month of January, county records showed yesterday. This amount carried the cumulative figure in Home's loan portfolio past the half billion dollar mark and, as of Feb. 14, its real estate loans totaled $505,556,094 — highest ever recorded by a savings and loan association.

Walter Thurber To 'Pinch-Hit' For Chamber

Col. Walter D. Thurber has agreed to "pinch hit" temporarily as secretary-manager of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, it was announced yesterday.

He will serve until the Chamber selects a permanent successor to Anthony Cavalli whose resignation became effective Feb. 28.

On previous occasions Col. Thurber has served the Chamber and other local groups in various capacities.

The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Decker, 431 E. Montecito, to shout "Surprise" on the unsuspecting Chief Brown.

After birthday toasts, the group moved to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Noshner, 254 N. Mountain Trail, where dinner was served in the rumpus room.

Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Decker, Mr. and Mrs. John Goodall, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Solury and Mrs. Charles Brown.

Child Hit by Car Escapes Serious Injury

A 6-year-old Sierra Madre girl narrowly escaped serious injury Tuesday when she was run over by the family car in her home driveway.

The youngster, Terrie Lynne Donoghue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Donoghue, 632 W. Montecito, was playing in front of the family car when her sister, Kimberly, 2½, apparently released the brake.

Terrie was dragged under the car for about 15 feet before it was stopped by hitting the house. The girl was bruised, cut and scratched, but otherwise was not hurt.

Mr. Donoghue is building a bumper in the driveway to prevent future accidents of this type.

City to Get Planning Cost Study

A report on the cost of a new planning survey between Sierra Madre Blvd. and Esperanza will be presented to the City Council next Tuesday night.

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said he has contacted three planning consultants and will present their cost figures to the Council. The area under study comprises the business and residential block from Baldwin to Hermosa, between Sierra Madre Blvd. and Esperanza.

IF FINANCIALLY feasible, the study will be made and is expected to guide the Council in development of the block.

A report also will be made on the emergency county aid program which the Council may adopt. The emergency program, in effect in areas of Los Angeles County since July 1, 1957, operates as follows:

An accident occurs and a police officer arrives at the scene. If the injured person is unconscious or unable to specify a doctor or hospital, the nearest officially designated ambulance is used and the person is taken to the nearest medical facility.

If the injured person is conscious or a relative is available, free choice of doctor or hospital facility is available.

ALL PATIENTS who are able to do so must pay their own way. The City of Sierra Madre would pay for ambulance service for indigent patients and for "dry runs." The advantages, according to Mr. Bevington, would be ready admittance to a hospital and guaranteed ambulance service, since payment is backed by the county and city.

Under the present system in Sierra Madre, police in many cases first call a doctor to the scene and then he must call an ambulance. This, according to medical men, is a waste of time.

Mr. Bevington, in addition, will recommend that the city conduct a special population estimate. Evidence indicates, the city administrator said, that the population here has increased about 600 since the last census.

IF TRUE, the city could collect about $4,500 more per year from the state in gas and sales taxes, Mr. Bevington said. If his estimate is correct, the present population of Sierra Madre is approximately 9,350.

Other items on Tuesday's Council agenda include discussion of several new and revised ordinances, two appeals from the recent Manzanita Ave. zone change, and further exploration of the status of the local cemetery.

Judge Mosk Forum Guest

Stanley Mosk, state attorney general, will speak at the Pasadena Jewish Temple and Center, 1434 N. Altadena Dr., March 15 at 8 p.m.

Judge Mosk's appearance is sponsored by the Lively Arts Forum of the Temple. He will discuss "Law and Justice."

Single admissions are $1, but there is no charge for series participants. Refreshments will be served.

Little League Registration This Saturday

The Little League Season will get under way officially in Sierra Madre this Saturday with registration of prospective players in Sierra Vista Park.

Registration will be at 9 a.m. in the Little League Field. All boys living in Sierra Madre are eligible providing they will be 8 years old by March 1, 1959, and will not be 13 before Aug. 1, 1959.

Girl, 12, Hurt In Fall From Fire Escape

A near tragic accident ended on a reasonably happy note this week for a 12-year-old Sierra Madre girl.

Pamela Sue Rhodus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rhodus Jr., 405 Mariposa, was on an outing last Saturday at Pine Crest Lodge near Lake Arrowhead with a group of youngsters from Bethany Church.

Saturday afternoon, Pamela and two of her girl friends were out on a third-floor fire escape at the lodge when a group of boys on the ground started pelting them with snowballs.

One well-directed snowball caused Pamela to jump backwards. She stepped into the fire escape well and fell more than 20 feet to the ground. She hit an iron bar on the way down, a factor which possibly saved her life.

Pamela suffered two fractured fingers, also cuts and bruises. In addition, a blood clot formed on her right knee. She is home now, her leg and arm in casts.

The happy part of the accident is that Pamela discovered she has a lot of friends. And almost all of them have autographed her cast.

Committee Report Cites Growth Factor

The school tax rate here may have to be raised about 42 cents over the next three years to provide the same services now established, the Board of Education was informed Monday night.

This was the gist of the majority report of the Citizens Advisory Committee for the Study of the Educational Program. The committee, part of the PTA, is headed by Ralph Rule.

The biggest problem facing the school district, Mr. Rule said, is to raise $445,725 for the 1959-60 school year. Estimated income for that period is $370,452.

NEEDED FOR 1960-61 is $467,970, compared with estimated income in that period of $412,495. In 1961-62, the district will need $490,446, compared with income of $431,575.

Based on a three-year projection of budget needs, the tax rate would have to be increased to $1.99 per $100 of assessed valuation to provide the same service the children are now getting, Mr. Rule said. These figures take into account the employment of three more teachers to meet the increased student load and still keep class sizes at about 30 each.

The present district tax rate, including the over-ride, is $1.5693.

MRS. ELENA BROWN, a committee member, disagreed with the majority report.

"I can see the need for growth," she said, "but the proposed tax increase doesn't seem practicable to me. No real effort was made to pare the budget. If we don't want to run the risk of losing the tax election, we'd better see where the budget can be cut down."

Mr. Rule, John Carr and others, however, disagreed with Mrs. Brown. They said that every major item was carefully considered and that any savings made would be inconsequential, if the citizens intend to maintain the same level of service.

KENNETH BUSH, president of the School Board, said:

"We are quite sure when we say it is entirely up to the citizens of Sierra Madre, if we want the type of school system we now have, we must have some more money."

The Committee, which will study additional phases at future meetings, is expected to make its final report at an adjourned meeting of the School Board on Monday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m. Committee meetings are open to the public.

The Board must decide the amount of the tax increase by March 18 and already has reserved the date of May 19 for an election for two School Board members and for the tax increase.

Marshall PTA Plans Panel On Colleges

The Marshall PTA will meet at 7:30 p.m., March 12 in the school auditorium. A business meeting will be held from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

At 8 o'clock a panel discussion for tenth grade parents and members of the PTA will be presented by faculty representatives of Pasadena High School. They will discuss requirements for college entrance, job training, scholarships, and military service. A question period will follow.

Miss Marion Dankers, assistant principal of John Marshall, will introduce Mrs. Gladys Edwards, principal of Pasadena High School, who will be moderator.

Mmes. Charles Parks and James Winslow are chairmen.

City to Hire Police Officer Through State

Sierra Madre for the first time will use the services of the State Personnel Board to hire a police officer, it was announced yesterday.

A vacancy now exists and applications must be filed by March 23. The salary range for patrolmen here is from $370 to $430 a month.

Applicants will be required to take three-part examinations—written, oral and physical. Forms can be obtained at City Hall.

TWO NEW TRUCKS to service Sierra Madre were added to the City Refuse fleet last week. The trucks especially designed for work in hilly areas, cost $16,500. Discussing the new equipment are City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington and Paul Thoresen, owner of City Refuse Service.

Easter Sermon Series to Start This Sunday

"Living Assuredly" is the topic of the Sunday sermon March 8 at the 9:15 and 11 a.m. services at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd.

Other subjects in the series will be "The Spirit in Command," March 15, and "Your Day of Triumph," March 22.

The discussion Sunday will present how man can learn to live with assurance in a fast changing world, free from inner fears and doubts.

Dr. Barnhart is currently conducting pre-Easter classes every Wednesday morning from 10:30 to 11:30. These classes are open to the public and designed for spiritual growth through understanding the meaning of Easter.

Lamplighters To Elect Officers

Lamplighters of Sierra Madre Methodist Church will elect new officers at a business and social gathering on Saturday, March 21, in the parish house. Members will meet at 8 o'clock rather than for a dinner meeting.

Plans for the election meeting and the installation banquet in May were discussed last Saturday night following dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. O'Rourke, 241 Ramona, attended by 40 members and guests. Assisting hosts were the Harold Grafs and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Westhafer.

Decorations were in an Oriental theme honoring the guest speakers, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Winans of Claremont, who spent many years in the missionary education field in China and Japan, and presented an hour's program based on their experiences.

Mrs. Winans wore colorful Japanese dress and the couple had an interesting display of photos and curios. They were introduced by Miss Florence Evans, chairman of the Commission on Missions, and the program was a part of the month-long missionary emphasis observance throughout the church.

At last month's meeting in the parsonage home of Dr. and Mrs. Chilton McPheeters, members enjoyed an Around the World party, the dinner featuring a variety of foods of foreign origin and a program of slides and commentary by Mrs. Orrel Merrihew, a Lamplighter who made an extensive European tour last summer.

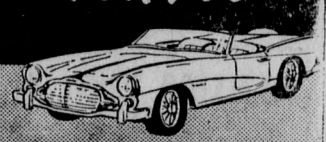

'Noblesse Oblige' Is Rabbi Steckel's Sermon Topic

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel, spiritual leader of the Foot-hill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, will discuss "Noblesse Oblige" at services Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Cantor Salo Blumenthal will assist by chanting the hymns and prayers. At the organ will be Miss Jerry Schuck. An added attraction will be the Junior Choir under the direction of Greg Bertram.

Hosts for this evening's Oneg Shabbath following the services will be Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cohen of Arcadia and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Pes-kind of Covina. Rabbi Steckel will conduct Sabbath morning services at 9 a.m.

CHINO—Casa Colina's annual Mother Smith Day will be staged March 15 with an open house and entertainment, plus a smorgasbord for the public, Harry D. Stewart, administrator of the rehabilitation center for crippled children, announced yesterday.

The affair will mark the seventh yearly observance honoring the memory of Frances Eleanor Smith, co-founder of Casa Colina and for 14 years its executive vice-president.

Theme this year—St. Patrick's Day—will be featured in Irish decorations about the grounds and building of the crippled children's center. Even the smorgasbord will carry out the Erin motif with a variety of green salads, plus a selection of meats and desserts. Serving hours are from 1 to 6 p.m.

Free entertainment will be staged continuously during the afternoon and will feature headline attractions including movie and television personalities in addition to a host of musical, novelty, and other vaudeville acts.

Aircraft Gas Tax Refund Down for '58

Californians spend a lot of time up in the air, figures produced by State Controller Alan Cranston showed yesterday.

Cranston reported his office refunded a total of $2,218,561 to aircraft operators in calendar year 1958, down $28,941 from the $2,247,502 refunded in 1957.

These figures are comprised of the 6-cent motor vehicle fuel tax paid on gasoline used in aviation and subject to refund because it is not used on the state's highways.

The gallage on which the 1958 refunds were based totaled 36,976,011 gallons, compared to 37,458,361 for 1957, Cranston said.

This does not include the gallage consumed by most of the major air lines, which purchase their gasoline tax exempt by taking out a license as a distributor and posting a bond up to a limit of $100,000 with the State Board of Equalization.

Cranston's office also apportioned $350,000 in unfunded taxes on aviation gasoline among the counties, airport-owning cities, and two specially-designated airport districts which are considered as counties for purposes of the allocation.

Violin Selections Feature Of Lutheran Service Sunday

A violin selection of sacred music will be offered by Mrs. Donald Mueller of Pasadena at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday, March 8, at the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Robert Moxley, church organist.

A sermon on "Fresh Bread," bringing a message for today's living out of Christ's miraculous feeding of the 5,000 with five barley loaves and two small fishes, will be given by the Rev. Ray E. Hansen.

"People today are aware of their own needs and often speak loudly of them," the pastor observed. "Far too many of us look at life in the light of material measurement and forget the plus sign of God's grace and power. When life's challenges come, we must look to God through Christ for an answer of marvelous abundance. It is not so much our ability that counts, but rather our pliability in the hands of God."

Sunday School with classes for all ages is at 9 a.m. A new Adult Bible Class on "Great Doctrines of Our Faith" begins Sunday.

In the Lenten service at

Kirk Choir To Sing Cantata

Leo Sowerby's cantata, "Forsaken of Man," will be sung by the Kirk Choir, directed by Howard Swan, in the sanctuary of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, March 9, at 8:15, with Robert Prichard as organist.

The composer has been the organist-director at St. James Episcopal Church, Chicago, for 29 years and is known in musical circles as an outstanding contemporary composer.

A dinner meeting for members of the Pasadena and Valley District Chapters of the American Guild of Organists and their guests will precede the cantata.

Cultivation of good habits helps to weed out the bad ones.

Your Health . . .

Good Recovery Possible For Victims of Strokes

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D., L.A. County Health Officer

Back in the year 1900, stroke was seventh among the chief causes of death in the United States; now it is third. Although this condition rarely occurs before 45 years of age, virtually anyone past this period of life may be stricken. Fortunately, not all such occurrences are serious.

Many strokes are so slight that no readily apparent physical or mental damage results. These have been called "little strokes" by one eminent physician who also stated that many individuals have them and do not even know it.

SUCH CEREBRAL vascular accidents, as they are often called, may occur in a number of ways. Chief among them is clot formation in one of the arteries of the brain (cerebral thrombosis), or the blocking of a blood vessel by a clot floating in the blood stream (embolism).

When the blood vessel closes down due to some local irritation, this constriction is known medically as a cerebral vascular spasm, or cerebral occlusion.

In cases where such a spasm is of short duration, medical authorities state that permanent damage does not necessarily occur. Indeed, such damage would be very difficult to detect in many instances.

Physicians are definitely more optimistic than they were in years gone by concerning the effects of treatment in cases of cerebral vascular disease and strokes. This is true even when the damage done by a stroke is extensive.

ALTHOUGH there is no cure for strokes—whether big or little, a number of medications are extremely effective in treating the conditions that they cause. Therapy in other respects is also greatly advanced over former times and most stroke victims including the hemiplegic (paralysis of one side of the body) need not despair.

Good health habits are beneficial also, both to help the condition and to avoid it. The right amount of the proper foods, plenty of rest and sleep, mild exercise, and in so far as possible, avoidance of worry and anger are strongly recommended. And, in all cases of stroke, medical attention should be obtained immediately.

A pamphlet on strokes will be mailed to anyone sending a card of request to the Division of Health Education,

Los Angeles County Health Department, 241 N. Figueroa St., Los Angeles 12.

Penn Phillips '58 Sales—$39 Million

M. Penn Phillips, Sierra Madran, is the subject of a featured article in the financial pages of "Time Magazine" current issue, March 2.

The story, called the "Desert Song," tells of the many desert developments of Mr. Phillips and the 100 land and construction companies he heads under the name of the M. Penn Phillips Co. with headquarters in Azusa.

Time Magazine credits Phillips and his organization with being a prime developer in California's great desert boom. It points out that Phillips has sold more land than any man alive, (an estimated 100,000) principally in the desert area.

Last year the Phillips Co. chalked up $39,000,000 in sales of land and housing in such M. Penn Phillips Co. developments as Salton City, Hesperia, Victor Village, California City and others.

"Time Magazine" illustrates the California desert growth by pointing out that four years ago when Mr. Phillips opened his Hesperia Development, acre lots were sold as low as $795, today many are worth as much as $6,000.

Phillips' current project,

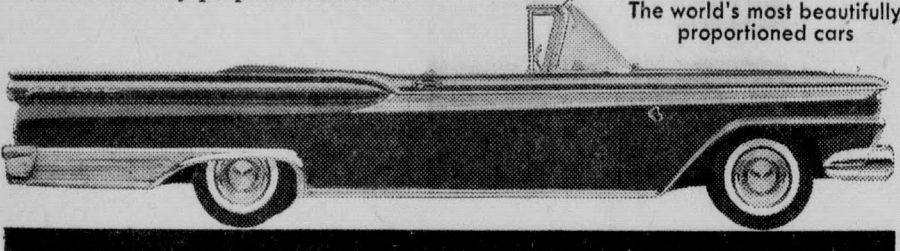

Salton City, is rescried by the magazine as his most ambitious. Salton City is a 19,600-acre development on the shores of Salton Sea. Mr. Phillips has spent or committed $10,900,000 on the project. In a short period of less than a year he has already totaled sales of over $30,000,000 to 7,000 purchasers.

In one week over a million dollars of property was sold at Salton City. The story states that Mr. Phillips operates on a simple principle, "you can't buy a poor piece of California Land you can only pay too much for it."

Scouting Around . . .

Displays, Festival of Art To Highlight Anniversary

Girl Scouts throughout the United States will celebrate the 47th birthday of their organization during Girl Scout Week, March 8 to 14.

Starting off the celebration in the Pasadena area will be a "Festival of Arts," to be presented Saturday, March 7, at 2 p.m. at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium.

Intermediate and senior scouts will make their individual contributions to the Juliette Low International Friendship Fund during the program, in memory of the founder of the Girl Scout movement in the United States. This fund is used to further friendship among Girl Scouts and Girl Guides all over the world.

Jack Linkletter will be master of ceremonies for the afternoon, with Maudie Prickett of Pasadena Playhouse, and Girl Scout World Travelers Patricia Tracy and Tamara Asseyev as special guests.

Also on the program are the Hanayagi Dancers and Okoto Players presenting songs and dances of Japan; the Athenian Junior Dancers representing Greece; the Polish Alma Mater members, Poland; the Anne Barlin Dancers, Ireland and Mexico; and Sushila Janadas and Pauline Gill, India.

An International Fashion Show by the Juliette Low Girls will complete the program.

Senior Scouts will conduct opening and closing flag ceremonies.

GIRL SCOUT displays will be exhibited during Girl Scout Week by Troop 507 at Youngland, Troop 508 at Reese's, Troop 527 at Perry's, Ship "Sea Nymph" at H. Clay Reavis.

A SPECIAL program for Brownie Scouts will be offered on March 7 at the County Arboretum, Arcadia, from 3-3:45, in honor of International Arbor Day.

EIGHTH GRADE girl scouts of Troop 526 spent the Washington birthday weekend in the snow at Wrightwood, improving their camp-out-housekeeping skills and learning to ski.

Eric Wittig, father of one of the scouts who was a ski patrol instructor during World War II, instructed the girls.

Taking the snow trip were Susan Fish, Mary Sue French, Cynthia Matthews, Daryl Lee Pangborn, Reggie Redel, Cathy Reece, Rebecca Renne, Lolita Stedman, and Rosemarie Wittig, accompanied by Mr. Wittig, Herbert Stedman, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Renne.

Sweet Family Plans Move To New York

Mr. Sweet is going to the eastern city to head the hosiery division for Montgomery Ward.

Mrs. Sweet's mother, Mrs. Gustav Hemple, will accompany the family.

The Sweets recently completed an extensive remodeling project on their home.

I got the biggest charge the other day reading an article concerning a parking lot owner in the East. It seems that he has some sort of an automatic toll gate. You pay your money and up goes the gate. It works automatically as you leave. You simply drive over a release lever and up she goes again. The thing that amused me is that all this automation counts the cars when they come and go and when they added it all up there were far too many cars for the dollars and cents involved.

It seems the little jobs are either slipping under the gate or sneaking in behind the paying drivers. It just proves you have to watch your investment all of the time. I wonder if he can count that as a deductible loss on his tax form?

THE HAROLD ZOOKS of Mesita Road are still on cloud number nine after their beautiful vacation in Jamaica. Mrs. Zook spent one week in Chicago visiting her family and friends before being joined by Mr. Zook. From there they flew to Jamaica to spend a week with Mr. Zook's parents. Mrs. Zook said that everything you see in movies about Jamaica is pictured accurately. It is an absolute fairyland. After leaving the island they flew back to spend a couple of days in and around Miami before returning to California. Mr. and Mrs. John Siechert had an informal dinner party on their return to get all of the details of the trip. The guests were Mrs. and Mrs. R. L. Fox, and Mrs. John Griffith and Mr. and Mrs. William Baugh.

FRIENDS of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bills, who have been visiting here from Chicago for the past three months, were happy to learn that they will be in the vicinity for one more month. They are going to take the apartment that the Don Jaxthelmers have been renting in Laguna while the Bills were in their home up here.

Last week the Bills had a cocktail party for some of their friends in the locale. The guests included their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Gardner P. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George Holmes, Mrs. Charles F. Robinson and her mother, Mrs. Henrietta Coke, Mrs. Frances Hoof and her houseguest, Mrs. Avery, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Phelps and Mrs. Phelps Sr. and Mrs. Thomas Winchester.

DR. AND MRS. Lincoln Wilson of Old House Road have been busy people these past few weeks. In between jury duty Mrs. Wilson spent a week at La Jolla Beach with some friends. She came home to have some houseguests for a few days. They were Mr. and Mrs. George Mack from Pebble Beach. The Wilsons had a small dinner party while they were here which was more or less a reunion of mutual friends. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murray, former Pasadenaans now living in Newport, R.I.

MRS. A. C. ONG and Mrs. Robert Law co-hosted a bridge party recently at the Ong's Trevan Road home. This was a luncheon and bridge party to end all bridge parties. There were 40 guests.

MR. AND MRS. Skipper Rostker of 3426 Barhite are inviting all of their neighbors and anyone who might be interested in joining them to meet two of the candidates for Pasadena City Board of Directors. The candidate are Mr. C. M. Linton and Mr. Grant Changstrom. The date: Sunday, March 8, from 4 to 5:30. The Rostkers felt this would be a wonderful opportunity to talk to the candidates and learn a little more about their platforms before going to the polls.

AREA GOVERNOR Charles Misner (center) presents Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club's speak-off trophy to John DuBois (left) who was chosen to represent the

Shakespeare
Juniors Host
Annual Party

Japanese lanterns and cherry blossoms accented Shakespeare Juniors' annual club party, a bridge luncheon, held yesterday in Stratford House.

Mrs. Donald W. Gormly and Mrs. George B. Newhouse, co-chairmen, were assisted by Mrs. Edward P. Fleischer and Mrs. Charles McCurdy, luncheon arrangements; Mrs. Paul F. Keller, guest corsages, and Mrs. R. E. Erickson, special invitations.

White azaleas under colorful parasols decorated each table. Carrying out the oriental theme, the stage was set with a Japanese tea table under white lanterns and cherry blossoms. Fuchsia, pink and white azaleas lined the front of the stage. Decorations were under the direction of Mrs. Paul V. Byrne Jr. and Mrs. James C. Bridges, assisted by Mrs. Lewis E. Rodwell, Mrs. Edward Bulmahn, Mrs. Herbert E. Blasler Jr. and Mrs. D. Gaylord West.

Special guests, Miss Helen Louis Taylor, senior club president; Mrs. Joseph E. Welsh, Mrs. Hiram B. Ravey and Mrs. Alfred D. Pyner, junior advisors; and Mrs. Orla Mercer, Mrs. Willard Karl, Mrs. Roger W. Maxson, Mrs. Langdon H. Tannehill and Mrs. Stanley A. Newlin Jr., past president, were greeted in the foyer by Mrs. James G. Robbins, attired in a Japanese kimono and holding a parasol.

They expect to serve gallons of coffee.

MR. AND MRS. William F. Nash of Mesaloa Lane came home last week from a sudden trip to Australia. They flew via Hawaii where they stayed for 26 hours before embarking again for Melbourne. They spent 10 days there and Mrs. Nash said she had never met such hospitable people in her whole life. They were taken to all of the local sights near and far. From there they flew to Sidney for two days, and then back to spend four days on the Fiji Islands. There they stayed in the native Thatched Bures. They were quite taken with the peaceful and uncomplicated way of life which is still unspoiled by too many tourists. From there they went back to Hawaii for five more days where they did a copious amount of sightseeing around the various islands before returning home.

UP ON ...

Hastings Hill

Do couples who dance together laugh together? Does dancing "put a little fun in your life?"

Well, yes—if you can survive the "how to" lessons. A group of Hastings solid citizens has just been through a refresher course in dance steps they learned several years ago when they first decided to "put a little fun . . ."

"Refresher" turned out to be an ill-chosen adjective. Few looked particularly refreshed. Most looked plain tuckered out after each Friday night's hour-and-a-half session. The kind and diligent instructors looked refreshed, but we suspected it to be a professional pose.

As for the laughing, how in the world can you possibly laugh when you have such a stupid partner. He can't understand what the teacher said to do. Obviously he's growing deaf because he can't hear the beat of the music. He's holding you one minute like you're a dripping mackerel, and the next like he's pushing a lawnmower (a dull lawnmower). He ignores your helpful suggestions.

Admittedly the suggestions are a little on the icy and tightlipped side, but how in the world can you be kind when he's completely unreasonable and won't try. You're doing fine," the blind instructor says to our spouse as we dance (more or less) by. "But you should relax," he says to us. "You're not supposed to lead, you know."

Then to the whole struggling group he says, "You don't smile enough." Right there he gets a good hearty but nervous laugh out of everybody.

So far we haven't heard of any divorces over this dancing. No couples have decided to swap mates because of the cha-cha-cha or the tango routines, that we know of.

The truth is that everything will be back to normal soon, the couples will be laughing together and there'll be a little fun in their lives—after the lessons wear off.

But the funny part is—the next time they dance, they'll find they did learn something, in spite of themselves, and they are pretty sure they're making a noteworthy sight twirling rather professionally, if they do say so themselves. Looking very regal in a pale green bouffant dress was Carol Wilkerson, who was crowned seventh grade queen at Wilson Junior High during the annual mother-daughter party last week. Carol was chosen in a school wide elimination contest to select a queen from each of the four grades at Wilson, judges especially looking for good posture, grooming and personality.

This wonderful weather has called numerous families on weekend vacations—the Irving Kingsleys to Palm Springs, the Alton Petersons to Las Vegas, the David Phillips to San Francisco, for example.

The Don Alsop family moved from their Canfield Road home Saturday, forsaking our area for West Covina.

Bill Shiner is doing quite well nursing a sprain and knee he got for himself while showing the kids the proper technique of tobogganing.

The Schlueter family, Dorothy, George and Greg, are having a fine time with their new Garwood speed boat. George is even spending one night a week at PCC taking a refresher course on all the things necessary to "sail the seven seas."

Joan Boldemann, ticket chairman for the CF Guild's fashion show and luncheon April 15 at Huntington-Sherford Hotel, was almost killed in the rush opening day for reservations. Janie Lef-fingwell arrived at 6:45 a.m. with her money clutched in her hand and by the time your correspondent arrived at 7:10 a.m., Edna Meason, Ethel Hays and Bev Behr had already been and gone. Joan took our money barefoot and in her PJs. When Hazel Gittinger and Vicki Richter arrived shortly before 8 a.m., Joan had changed her "costume" to a towel wrapped around the strategic portions. Seems the dreamer had thought she'd have time for a shower. By 9 o'clock, a line had formed and Fran Wright, Charlene Holloway and Carmen Farmer were looking over each other's shoulder trying to make their table selections. And so it went the livelong day with only 114 tickets left by evening. Wonder if Joan will volunteer for the job next year.

Toastmasters Club Has
Ladies' Night

Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club was host at a ladies' night dinner meeting.

Highlight of the occasion was the selection of the speaker to represent the club in the area speak-off. John DuBois once again earned the right to represent the local group with his Americana theme speech, "History in the Night." Others in competition were Bill Bower, Fred Hardesty and Henry Nash.

Toastmaster for the evening was Vic Harris and Jack Bailey, topic master, presided over the impromptu talks on smog, taxes, government, credit cards and progressive education.

Charles Meisner, Toastmaster area governor, and his wife were honored guests. Other guests in attendance were R. R. Dewees and F. C. Crowhurst and their wives.

Other members and their wives attending were Ross Morgan, Frank Wright, Dick Friend, Joe Karam and Bill Bell.

The group's next meeting will be March 11. Those interested in specific information or in attending a meeting may call Ross Morgan, president, at ELgin 5-8474.

Camp Fire Log . . .

Sierra-Hastings Girls
Join in Arbor Ceremony

Sierra-Hastings Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds will join with others from throughout the San Gabriel Valley in a tree planting ceremony at 11 a.m. Saturday at Descanso Gardens.

Each girl attending will seedling to plant later in her own community. Each of the eight districts in the council will be presented with a tree to be planted in the districts. La Canada Camp Fire Girls have donated a tree for the planting ceremony to be dedicated to Theodore Payne in recognition of his work with youth groups.

During the program, Camp Fire Girls will sing the Camp Fire Law and Blue Birds will say their "Wish." The girls are invited to view the camellia show currently in progress at Descanso. Mrs. James Stivers has additional information on the dedication ceremony. She may be contacted at ELgin 5-1653.

First grade girls of Eugene Field School and their mothers are invited to a get-acquainted party at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the cafeteria.

Doll Club Sorority Holds
Meet at Cummiskey Home

The Doll Sorority, an antique doll club for collectors living in the Foothill area, met in the home of its founder and organizer, Mrs. Jeanne Cummiskey, 3765 Edgeview. Mrs. Edith Ziglash, expert in antique doll repairing and costuming, was co-hostess.

National Federation of Doll Clubs inaugurated a slide study program last year with all participating chapters selecting a category of antique dolls.

The chapters take color slides of their particular category, with an information card accompanying each picture, and send them to headquarters. In turn, they are mailed to the various chapters in the United States to be enjoyed and studied.

The local chapter has chosen wooden dolls for its contribution to this program and at the last meeting, members brought all of their dolls in this category to be discussed. They were photographed by Bill Cummiskey.

The president, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, presented a discussion of wooden dolls.

New members welcomed into the group were Mrs. Theresa Gleason of Arcadia, Mrs. Helen Manning of Duarte and Mrs. Pearl Nash, former owner of Griffon Antique Shop in Sierra Madre.

Also in attendance were Mrs. Martha Moore, Mrs. Helen Fox and Mrs. Marg Hill, all of Pasadena and members of Los Angeles County Antique Doll Collectors Club, and Mrs. Joan Flint of Duarte, an alumna, who had several rare and lovely dolls to share with the group.

The day's agenda included the discussion of dolls to be taken by members to Arcadia Woman's Club for its annual Antique and Hobby Show Exhibit next month.

In April, many of the members will take a few choice dolls to Santa Ana to the annual Antique Doll Exhibit at C. E. Bowers Memorial Museum.

Door-side Plants Give Important First Impression

You won't find it in Emily Post, but the place to greet your guests is outside the door. Not in person, but in plant life you have stationed there.

A door-side planting gives that all-important first impression. If it puts up a shabby front, you are off to a bad start. If it brushes a visitor or makes him duck, you might as well be swinging at him yourself.

With this in mind, take another look at the greeting you extend to your friends.

WHAT SHOULD you see? Well, neatness is a requisite. The planting should be modest in both form and growth habit. It should put up a good front the year around, which means that evergreens are preferred.

The California Association of Nurserymen lists the following half dozen plants as starters and hastens to add that any of its members could name you half a dozen more for each of them.

To start, the trim Yew Pine (Podocarpus) is a favorite in the landscape trade—either in a tub or in the ground. It is not actually a yew, but its growth is similar.

We try not to go overboard on Camellias, but here again this versatile shrub is the answer to a problem, especially in sheltered exposures. For a clipped look, try single plants of Boxwood at either side of the entrance—in tubs or in the ground. Similar, but less formal, is dwarf Myrtle.

IF YOUR entrance is along a walk that parallels the house, chances are you need an espaliered plant against the wall. Firethorn fills the bill as well as any. A little more unusual are loquats, magnolias and evergreen pears.

And finally, if shade is predominant, try Fatsia, the tropical looking cross between common Ivy and the lush Fatsia.

The list is not endless, but it's a good deal longer than this. Perhaps it's unfair to name so few, but if your door-side planting needs an overhaul, you at least know there's something to do the job.

Bill Regulating Credit Selling Is Explained

By Sen. Richard Richards

Legislation to protect installment buyers against excessive charges and other abuses should reach the governor's desk soon, following its approval this week by the Assembly.

The bill, regulating all phases of credit selling, is Assembly Bill No. 500, introduced at the request of the governor by Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh of Los Angeles with 49 co-authors.

It was developed during an interim study by a subcommittee on lending and fiscal agencies headed by Assemblyman Unruh.

PUBLIC HEARINGS by this committee disclosed very serious abuses in the Los Angeles area, which I have reported from time to time, and the resulting legislation is designed to regulate credit selling practices in close detail.

Under provisions of this bill it would be unlawful to obtain the signature of the buyer to a contract when it contains blank spaces to be filled in after it has been signed.

Retail installment contracts must be dated and in writing, and detailed information as to terms must be spelled out in the contract.

A CONTRACT must clearly set forth the cash price of goods, services or accessories concerned, the amount of the down payment, the amount of the financing charge, and the balance due.

If insurance is involved, the provisions for coverage and the premium must be clearly stated.

Where goods are repossessed, the buyer would have the right to redeem the goods or to have them sold at a public auction.

Wage attachments would be prohibited for a period of 60 days from the time of default on the contract.

As a finance charge on installment contracts, provisions of the bill allow a maximum of $10 per year on each $100 added to the unpaid balance on the first $1,000, and $8 per $100 added to any amount in excess of $1,000.

RATES ALLOWED on a revolving charge account may not exceed one and one-half percent per month of each monthly balance on the first $1,000, and one percent per month on any amount in excess of $1,000.

These are only the high points in a printed bill of more than 17 pages, which covers the whole field of installment buying.

Be careful where you pass out advice—some people might be foolish enough to believe you.

State-Wide Project Only Solution to Water Needs

(This is the first of a weekly report to the people of California from the office of Gov. Brown. The report, which will run occasionally in The Sierra Madre News, is intended to keep the readers informed of the status of proposals made to the Legislature.)

SACRAMENTO — A series of events illustrating California's great water needs, both present and future, were cited by Gov. Edmund G. Brown this week in support of holding the State's $160 million investment fund exclusively for the state's expensive water development program.

On March 2 he flew to San Luis Obispo to participate in the ground-breaking ceremony for the nearby Whale Rock Dam project. It will be built on a co-operative basis to serve the water needs of the San Luis Obispo campus of California Polytechnic College, the California Men's Colony and the City of San Luis Obispo itself.

THE GOVERNOR hailed the $7 million project, which is financed jointly by the state and city, for its contribution to the solution of the immediate problem, but added: "Local projects like this are not enough to meet the challenge of California's future growth. Only a state-wide water project which will meet the legitimate demands of all parts of the state, including San Luis Obispo, will do that."

Earlier, taking note of the dedication of Coalinga's pioneering brackish water conversion plant, he observed that the Fresno County city will thus reduce the cost of usable water there from $2,300 an acre foot (the cost of water shipped in railroad cars) to $485 an acre foot.

When the State's water program is complete, however, the cost will be cut to roughly $50 an acre foot, he said.

"There, obviously, is the ultimate solution," the governor declared. "It is the solution not just for a community such as Coalinga, but for every community in the State that needs water now or in the future."

STATE DIRECTOR of water resources Harvey Banks, discussed a third illustration of the scope of the problem at a Governor's Council session, the first of the new administration.

"We had estimated that Santa Maria would not get water under the state-wide program until the mid-1980's," Banks said. "Then the missile base went in there where the ground water basin is already over-drawn. Now water is needed desperately and a $100 million aqueduct will have to be built to handle the big population upsurge. The same could happen to any town or city in the state if it should suddenly find itself the center of a big new industry or activity."

"Almost every day since I have been governor some facet of this state's great need for an all-out water program has been brought to my attention," the Governor commented later.

"We are going to need every available dollar in the investment fund to get a truly state-wide water program under way that will meet all requirements. That $160 million is the down payment on California's future."

Self-sufficiency has never been known to secure efficiency.

HE SAID he was confident that the long delay in getting under way on a state-wide program would end in this session of the Legislature.

Gov. Brown also made clear that dedication of the investment fund would not interfere with tidelands oil revenues which are now assigned to beach and park development.

"That comes off the top before the revenues go into the investment fund and it will continue to do so," he declared.

Self-sufficiency has never been known to secure efficiency.
